Seafood Gil's restaurant

We've already been serving you since 1982. We have clients and friends of many years and we want to make more.

We want that everything will be of your pleasure, for that reason, if something is not like this, we would like you to inform us.

Next, you will see the specialty (the seafood) and other plates that we have to your service.

For market causes, you will see that some gender cannot be served, but we believe that you will like this, since it demonstrates that we only have the best and fresh in the market, but even, we apologize if this happens.

If they have some anniversary, weddings... to take place they ask for our menus for groups.

Thank you to come to our house, and we hope they feel like in their house.
